EVERY EXPERIENCE GIVES EXPERIENCE.

EXPER1ENCE!

To live experiences helps us to accumulate experience. It seems a word game, but it isn't. Somebody said that there are people that live the life and others just simply exist. We are definitely in the first group. For more than 30 years we have lived our lives as a continuous experience. 30? 40? Well... for a long time! And we choose to fly balloons because to fly with balloon is in fact, just that an experience. The possibility to live every day, every flight, is like a new experience. If we think on that, we are lucky!

Our "experimenter" inquisitiveness has been awakening us, throughout time, with energy to always start new adventures, new challenges that will take us to live new and different experiences.

We will tell you a small secret (maybe it is not so secret). When we were 18 years old, we decided with 4 friends of our town to ascend the Kilimanjaro... with motorcycle! And we did it! It was older different times and we were not so sensitive, but it would take a long time to explain all we learned in that long trip...

In 2011, after so many years, we imagined coming back with an adventure to Kilimanjaro, but this time the challenge should be... with balloon! And we did it! We were able to join a nice group of friends and excellent pilots sharing this important and personal experience making it totally unforgettable.

We will continue dreaming and imagining new and great adventures for the future. In the meantime, we maintain our wishful thoughts to try every day, as pilots and manufacturers to improve our balloons so that every flight becomes a new experience, without forgetting that we are lucky enough to enjoy every moment.

For a 2012 full of new experiences!

2012, EXPER1ENCE A NEW YEAR!
